Description:

FrontIT - Founded in 2006 by two Scandinavians, we've grown to a team of twenty. Together, we've spent over a decade making web-based software for a wide range of clients. We enjoy solving complex problems, which always begins by asking the right questions. From the very start, we work with you to understand your business needs, taking care of the project management from kick-off to delivery. The outcome? Creating high-performance software that's easy to use.

At FrontIT, we make use of a wide range of technologies, all tried and tested with a proven track record in the industry. We continuously consider and test new and emerging programming tools, languages, libraries, and frameworks. In addition to this, we are flexible and are able to use any other PHP or .NET framework to solve your business problems.

What we need:

- Fluent English

- Strong (>= 2 years) experience in .NET (C#) + javascript frameworks using TypeScript. Knockout.js is a preferred JS framework

- Strong experience working in a team of developers

- Experience working based on Scrum with Jira would be an advantage
